

Research intern – business in Africa – Autumn 2020

Africa Advice is a consultancy company working with the goal of making Danish companies see and explore the potentials of African markets. To strengthen our knowledge base, we are looking for an intern for mainly research within specific business sectors in Africa.

You should be good at searching for both academic and non-academic sources and able to communicate your key findings. Prior knowledge of Africa and African markets is a plus but no precondition. Working proficiency of English is a must – French is a plus.

We offer the chance of diving into a very interesting field. Flexible working hours and the possibility to influence your own tasks and the company as such.

Africa Advice is based in Vitus Bering Innovation Park in Horsens, but a fair amount of work can be done from home.
