

Sales and marketing intern – Africa Advice – Autumn 2020

Africa Advice is a consultancy company working with the goal of making Danish companies see and explore the potentials of African markets. We are looking for a sales and marketing intern to assist in reaching new markets among Danish companies.

Your tasks will be both contributing to a continued development of our marketing strategy and reaching out to potential customers on social media and by phone and networking opportunities.

You are studying within the fields of sales, marketing or other business-related subjects. You don't need prior knowledge of Africa or African market, but a general curiosity in the field makes your job easier. Working proficiency in Danish is a plus but not a precondition.

Africa Advice is based in Vitus Bering Innovation Park in Horsens.
